DEAR VALUED CUSTOMER,

We know your service and quality expectations are very high. We also know that post-COVID, service levels have been materially degraded. You see this in restaurants, when you try to buy a pair of boots or even more frustratingly, when you want to actually talk to a live person about a question you have. We view this situation as a unique opportunity to consistently surpass your expectations in every interaction. This is why you can expect to connect with a knowledgeable individual on the phone (or receive a prompt call back) capable of addressing all your inquiries without the hassle of being placed on hold or navigating an endless stream of prompts. In the unfortunate circumstance that an issue does arise, we fix it first and worry about the administration later.

Our customer-centric focus extends to our product offering. If you purchased an item from us five years ago and want to gift the “same” item to a friend or a PH today, at the very minimum we want to make sure it is as good as the original. In many instances, it will be better. Continuous improvement is an action for us, not a trendy catch-phrase.

Earlier this year we witnessed a customer utilizing a set of our decade-old shooting sticks whilst on safari. In comparison to the ones that we build today, we were pleasantly reminded of the many improvements that have been implemented over the last 10 years. Small upgrades over time can create as much value as small downgrades can destroy. While we have adopted many new processes over the past 20 years, value engineering will never be one of them. We decide what we want to do and the price premium associated with that never gets in the way of building the best product possible. Sounds simple, but most strategies die with the first dollar which is why clothing companies that start out making flannel shirts with dime sized buttons lose our business when they save a few cents by reducing the buttons down to frustration size.

Over the years we have found the easiest way to grow our sales is to continuously improve our products. The only way this happens is if we listen to you and make sure that even though you are not in the room, your vote counts. When we do that, you tell your like-minded friends and our business grows. Almost sounds too simple to work, but it does.

We look forward to seeing you at the DSC and SCI shows. Please stop by and say hello....we will have a few new proprietary products and some existing ones we have added some new bells and whistles to that we would like to show you.

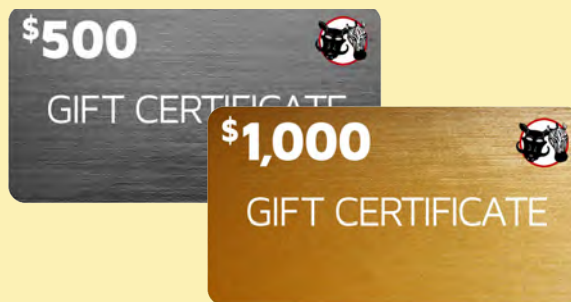

Good hunting,

Jim + Elisabeth

Into Africa - The Return of Safari... Now What To Wear?

Courteney Selous Boots JOHN MACGILLIVRAY, DORSEY PICTURES

Courteney Selous Boots...the quintessential African footwear.

The Selous has been worn by rangers, safari guides, researchers and others who wanted to make sure they could out-run others in their party for decades. Buffalo leather also absorbs and releases moisture, which makes it ideal for both summer's heat and winter's cold...and if you get too close to one and wet yourself. Buffalo hide also does not stretch yet becomes more supple with time. Want to know the hide is authentically Cape buffalo? Just look for the scars in the leather, most likely a lion's autograph.

PETERSEN'S HUNTING Best New Knives for 2019

Joseph von Benedikt - February 05, 2019

Even if it weren't the alphabetical first, I'd have put this knife at the top and given it a "best of the best" endorsement. Handmade in South Africa by a group of brothers, these Arno Bernard Dagga Boy drop point knives feature spectacular Bohler N690 surgical stainless steel hafted in Cape buffalo horn and warthog ivory. Perfectly balanced, they come incredibly sharp—as in scalpel sharp. Marketed exclusively through African Sporting Creations, each costs $399—and is worth more. This is a knife with which you can skin a thousand whitetails, plus all the moose, brown bear, kudu and buffalo you please, and then hand it down to your kids in perfect condition.

Essentials For An African Safari

Remembering the safari of a lifetime should go beyond taking pictures and hunting game. In preparation, G&A believes that you should take gear that will enable a safe and successful adventure while embracing Africa's romance. May we suggest starting at African Sporting Creations for unique, hand-made products that embody the ruggedness of Africa? Among the many items the company offers, there are four items we feel no hunter shouldn't leave home without: shooting sticks, a good sling, an Arno Bernard knife and Courteney boots.

Courteney boots come in various styles and are made from Nile crocodile, Cape buffalo, hippo, or ostrich leather. The most popular boot is the Selous, named after legendary explorer, conservationist, hunter and soldier Frederick Courteney Selous. These boots are constructed entirely from buffalo and impala, and hand stitched in Zimbabwe. The sole is made of a rubber "tyre" tread, and is highly regarded for producing little-to-no noise in the bush.

One item African Sporting Creations is best known for are their shooting sticks. Made in-house of hickory, carbon fiber, or select, limited-edition African woods, the sticks feature leather-wrapped tops hand-sewn from buffalo or zebra leather. The leather improves grip while protecting the rifle's forend when it's time to shoot. Anodized aluminum connectors assemble quickly and the sticks can be stored for transport in a provided canvas carry case.

No safari rifle is complete without a sling and no pair of binoculars should be either. The company offers a canvas and leather bino sling from Els & Co. The strap assembly is comfortable with three traditional brass studs that push into eyelets for adjusting to improve weight distribution.

Knives are a collector's favorite and African Sporting Creations is the U.S. master distributor for Arno Bernard knives featuring handles made of buffalo horn and warthog tusk. They also make great gifts to leave behind with your professional hunter or trackers who share your experience.

Most of the products you'll find at africansc.com are available nowhere else, just like your memories.

AFRICAN SHOOTING STICKS

Many years ago we only offered one product: African Shooting Sticks. We set out to make the best sticks available, and the rest of our business developed from that first initial product.

Our typical customer purchases up to a half-dozen less expensive aluminum shooting sticks before they finally invest in a set of ours. While our sticks “cost more,” they will save you money over the long run, and your grandchildren will be proud to use them one day.

The connector is the strongest component on our Shooting Sticks because it is milled from a solid block of aircraft aluminum and has three points of contact for unmatched strength. The adjustment mechanism on competitors’ Shooting Sticks are usually the weakest component because they rely on plastic or thin stamped metal pieces. This explains why they typically offer a one-year limited warranty versus our unconditional lifetime warranty.

In addition to being strong, our sticks are also stealthy. The most unnatural sound in the wild is a metallic one. Our competitors use a hollow aluminum tube with pointed metal bottoms that can make noise and scare off game. Our solid wood shafts and pencil sharpened wood or polymer bottoms are the quietest on the market, helping you get in close.

No one ever regretted owning the very best, and our Shooting Sticks have earned a cult-like following among PH’s and serious hunters all over the world. Read for yourself why people who hunt for a living (or live to hunt) consider them to be beyond compare!

UNCONDITIONAL LIFETIME WARRANTY

Absolutely the finest sticks available today are made by African Sporting Creations. Custom built for your height, they are available in various exotic hardwoods; are fitted with buffalo, zebra, or other exotic leather; and can be engraved with your name. While you might think they'd be heavy, they're actually lighter than competing metal and plastic versions, and they are far more durable. I've broken a few sets of modern sticks and have seen many more broken, but even African PHs, who work their shooting sticks incredibly hard year-round, don't wear out or break those made by African Sporting Creations.

Joseph Von Benedikt
August 2016

Shooting sticks have become standard tools for hunting in many places around the globe. A solid pair of sticks provides you with a steady platform from which to deliver an accurate first shot, regardless of the terrain.

African Sporting Creations offers a line of handmade sticks designed to last forever and backed up with an unconditional lifetime warranty.

GRAY'S BEST

Jim has experimented with various woods, improving the design with each generation until now he is close enough to perfect to rate a GRAY'S BEST.

Terry Wieland
Expeditions & Guides

I am a firm believer in "African style shooting sticks" and have been using sticks from African Sporting Creations for several seasons. This year African Sporting Creations' screw-in tripod has become a permanent part of my gear. I took them to Pakistan in January where I used them "short" to take a Sind Ibex and "long" to take a Himalayan Ibex at long range in deep snow. Right now I am in Argentina - and you can bet my sticks are here with me!

- Avoid "scope eye" by standing upright, no need to crouch.
- Holds even the largest NE rifles steady during recoil for rapid follow-up shots.

TURNBULL SHOOTING STICKS

This model leverages all of our experience and enables us to elevate the functionality inherent in all of our shooting sticks to a work of art.

Turnbull Manufacturing

color case hardened the steel take-down connectors showcased on this offering. Turnbull is the preeminent practitioner of this timeless process, which graced the finest rifles, pistols, and shotguns from the golden age of American firearms production. To support the added weight of the steel connectors, we selected hickory for the rigid, kiln-dried shafts, and finished them with clear poly to highlight the color and graining of this stunning wood.

How do these sticks differ from our Platinum Grade offerings?

- Turnbull Manufacturing steel color case hardened connectors
- Extra-soft, hand-sewn, circular American bison leather tops protect the checkering on your fine rifle
- Beautiful 5 MM mammoth ivory “night sights” inlaid into the two shafts grasped for set-up - inspired by bespoke double rifles that used a flip-up ivory front sight for low-light conditions
- Concealed screws affix the color case hardened connectors to the wooden shafts without blemishing them in any way
- An unobtrusive O-ring at the base of each connector (see Mammoth ivory inset photo) minimizes the possibility of the connectors coming into contact with each other.
- Heavy-duty canvas carrying case
- Weigh approximately 3.5 lbs., or about 1 pound more than our Aluminum models.
- Options include engraving the lucky recipient’s name in the wood of the middle shaft, and a Courtney Cape buffalo carrying case.

Limited inventory available. $699 Engrave name for $49. Order by 12/15 for holiday delivery.

SUPERCOMPACTS & CARBON FIBER STICKS

SUPERCOMPACTS are very versatile shooting sticks. Use the top section alone to shoot from the prone position. Connect the top section to the bottom ones, which feature quiet wood points, to shoot from the kneeling position or to make a 48" walking staff for navigating rough terrain. Use all three sections to shoot from the standing position.

To make sure you can plant them in the ground, pointed tips are always facing down whether you use one, two, or all three sections. The shorter wood sections make these sticks even more rigid than our other models. They are also ideal for those who like to travel with their firearms incognito in a shorter take-down case (Blaser®, double rifles) and need a more compact set of shooting sticks. Instead of one set of anodized take-down connectors, these have two.

Featherweights-Weigh approximately 2.5 lbs. and use light-weight but very rigid exotic African hardwood for the top and bottom sections. Hickory stained, a medium brown color is used for the middle sections. – $499

Standards-Larges weigh approximately 3.0 lbs. and are hickory stained medium brown. – $399

Medium size fits hunters 62"-67," and the longest section measures 26"
Large size fits hunters 68"-73," and the longest section measures 26"
XL fits hunters above 74," and the longest section measures 28.25"
 (will fit in a Blaser® case) Engrave your name on the connector for $49.
Order by 12/15 for holiday delivery.

CARBON FIBER SHOOTING STICKS

PLATINUM CARBON FIBER SHOOTING STICKS are for anyone who wants the lightest and most rigid sticks available. Carbon fiber is four times stronger than steel yet weighs less than aluminum.

Weigh approximately 2.5 lbs – $549 Large (68-73") and XL (above 74").
Optional engraving – $49 and order by 12/15 for holiday delivery.

Arno Bernard
KNIVES

Arno Bernard Knives are crafted in Africa and place a little bit of adventure in your hand every time you hold one. The founder of the company, who has been making custom knives for decades, taught the four sons the proper way to craft a knife, and each one of them has mastered a key part of the process that produces their exceptional creations.

Responsibly Sourced, Expertly Crafted.

ARNO'S HAND PICKS

Cutting tons of handle materials each year has given Arno an unfailing intuition as to which ones, out of the thousands they process annually, will be absolutely stunning. I encourage you to go to our website to look through this incredible collection. If you see something you like, do not hesitate; "unicorns" are incredibly rare and you may never see another one.

CASED SET OF SIX STEAK KNIVES

No expense was spared in the creation of these one-of-a-kind sets. The knives are 8.1" overall with sleek, contoured 4.05" handles that showcase the stunning beauty of polished Mammoth Molar, hand-buffed ivory Warthog tusk or Kudu horn. Five stainless steel pins on each side keep the handles securely fastened to the full length tang. The N690 Bohler stainless steel blade is 4.05" long, and Franco Bernard puts a razor sharp hollow ground edge on every one.

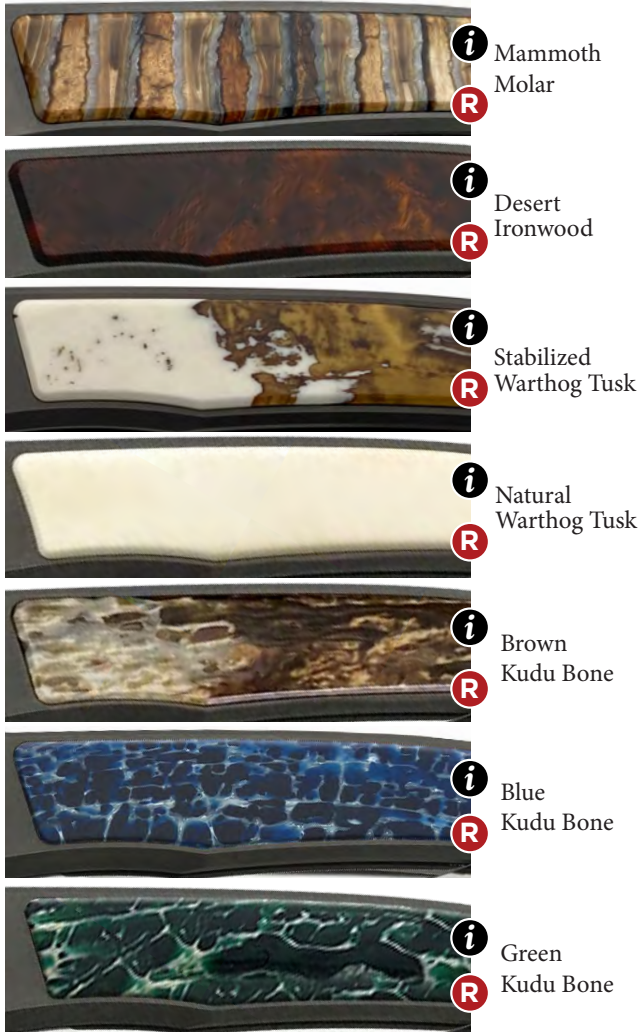

The custom crafted African mahogany presentation case measures approximately 11.3" wide x 4" deep x 2.3" tall and features recessed brass hinges, a magnetic closure and contrasting exotic wood highlights on all four corners. A center divider keeps the knives securely separated, with three knives to a side. Hand wash in warm water and hand dry, do not put in a dishwasher.

OUT OF AFRICA: THE BEST BOOT COMPANY YOU'VE NEVER HEARD OF

Boots and shoes handcrafted by The Courtney Boot Company have gained a reputation as being among the best footwear made anywhere in the world.

The global footwear market is estimated to grow to $426 billion by 2022. The boot and shoe industry is growing at 6.2% annually and is experiencing one of the longest and most profitable periods in the history of the footwear market.

To compete, industry leaders like Nike, Wolverine, Red Wing and the Thursday Boot Company are embracing high-tech automation, analytics to identify and understand customer demand and buying behavior, machine learning to automate manual processes, and digital solutions to maximize customer engagement in stores and online.

One boot company, however, has found success by doing the opposite. In fact, the company many boot and shoe experts consider to be the best in the world has a factory that can only manufacture 30 pairs of boots per day.

A LOOK INSIDE OUR COLLECTION

We are particularly fond of Maasai Lion and Zulu stabbing (Iklwa) spears/shields and intricately crafted Kuba spears from the Congo, we have many sizes, materials and tribes within our extensive inventory. Most of our items are at least 75-100 years old and some are much older. They were acquired from European museums or at auction. Many are coated from the soot of hundreds of wood fires and are readily distinguishable from their mass-produced replicas. The items shown in our catalog and online are a small sampling of our collection.

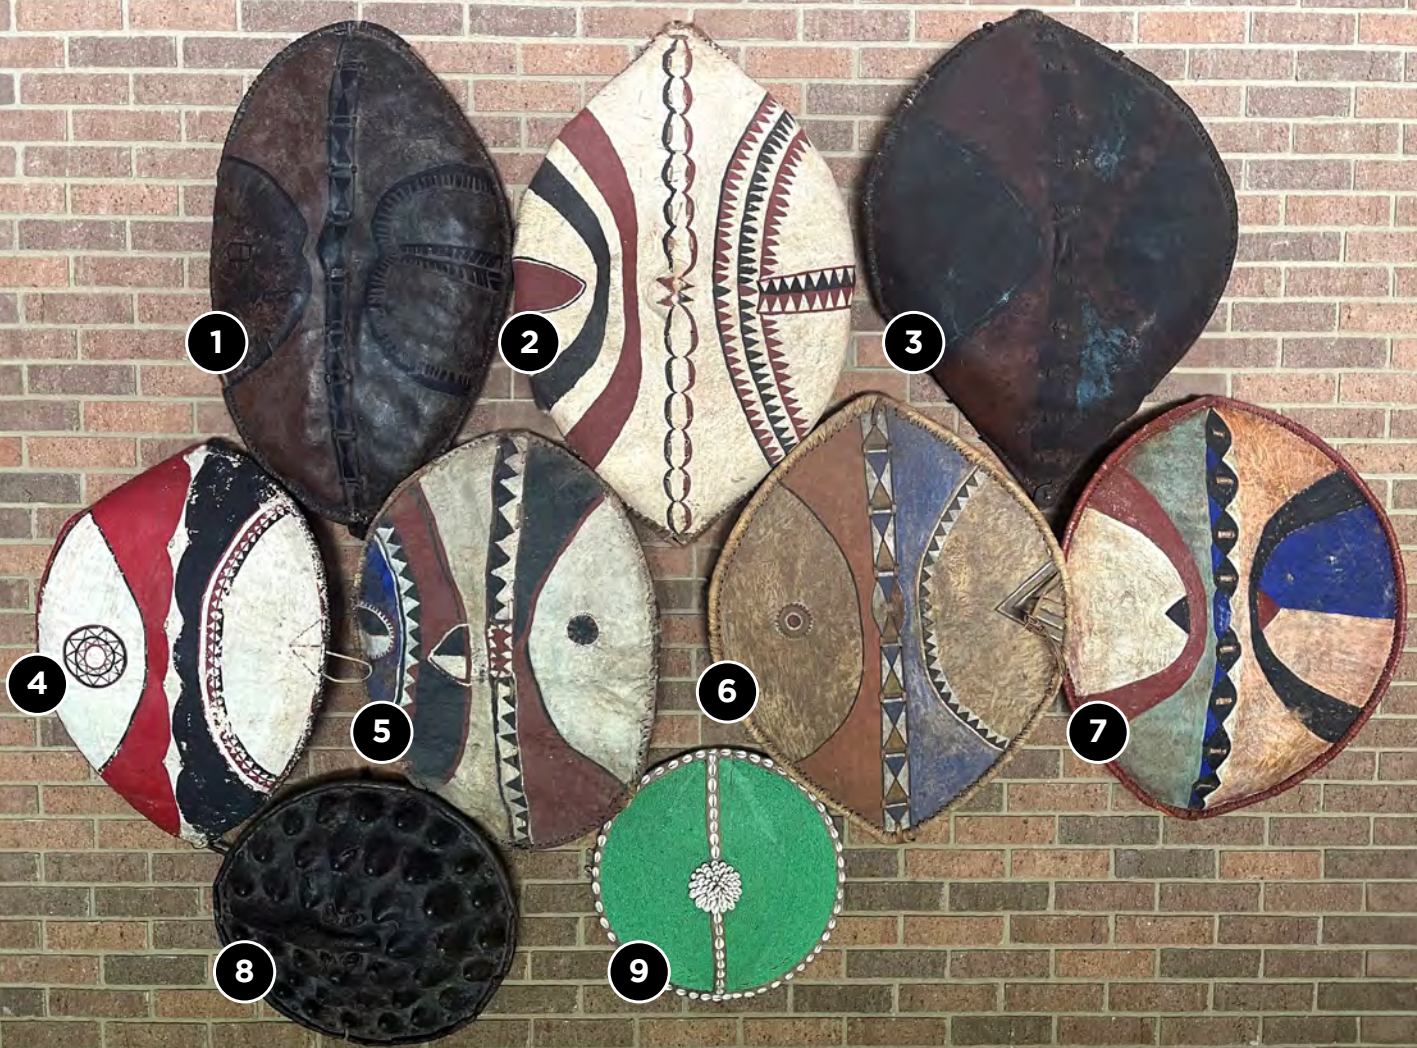

Please keep in mind that our online inventory sells quickly, however we set aside a few special pieces that are not offered on our site or in our annual catalog to serve as substitute items. If you are looking for something in particular or want more details on an item, call us at (419) 529-5599.
